SMART LIBRARIES: TRANSFORMING FROM TRADITIONAL TO IoT

Dr. Mallinath Kumbar and Prakash Kumbar

Introduction

Technology is currently being adopted and implemented in every sector. Emphasis will be placed on automated and digital environment. Many sectors have already adopted Internet of Things (IoT) supported smart devices for their all possible areas. During lockdown period, restrictions which has been implemented to control corona virus, has made online education a reality. Similarly, the current libraries are shaped into digital environment to reach the end users, and to cope up with smart users. Libraries are now moving towards smart libraries. To be a technology-powered country, is a necessity to cope-up with new technologies which are challenging to country's overall development. Smart libraries are the transformation of traditional libraries, which changes the library services and supports more of online-based services. In this
